OneGoat, The First Responders Organization, is a recognized 501c3 non-profit organization that believes that first responders are our nation's Greatest Of All Time. First responders put societal safety above their own. They are the first to respond to an emergency and many owe our lives, the lives of loved ones, or our treasured homes to them.

OneGoat was started from the need to help first responders with their need for critical gap funding. Funding to help first responders survive and live through times of financial hardships from delayed or denied workman's comp claims, funding for special treatments not covered by insurance, or just to pay the mortgage when their personal finances have been drained due to injury or loss.
